2017 Speaker Biographies

PATRICIA ADES is Senior IP Counsel at J.M. Huber Corporation, where she handles all aspects of the company's intellectual property matters. Patty formerly practiced law at the firms Gardner, Groff, Santos & Greenwald, P.C. and Needle & Rosenberg, P.C. after starting her career in Iowa law firms. Before law school, she also worked as a Project Engineer at Microbial Environmental Services. She earned her J.D. from the University of Iowa and a B.S. in Chemical Engineering from Iowa State University.

CAROL ANSLEY is Senior Director, Counsel on the Legal team at ARRIS. Carol holds BEE (1989) and MEE (1995) degrees in electrical engineering from the Georgia Institute of Technology as well as a J.D. from Georgia State University (2014). She was one of the original ARRIS employees when Arris Interactive was formed in 1995, and has served in a variety of technical leadership positions, including Principal Engineer, Hardware Development Senior Manager and Platform Quality Control Manager. Her current role combines supporting the patent process within ARRIS working with engineering teams and the legal team as well as being part of the patent litigation defense team. She also supports wireless standards activities and is a technical resource for the ARRIS Customer Premises Equipment (CPE) CTO team. She also has received 25 US patents in various areas of communications and CATV-related technology. She regularly contributes telecommunication industry technical papers on a variety of topics related to wireless home networking. She is a Board member of the MoC Alliance and a voting member of IEEE SA 802.11.

JEFF BLAKE is a partner at Merchant & Gould P.C. Jeff’s practice involves all aspects of intellectual property litigation and due diligence. His experience includes representation of clients in the electrical, pharmaceutical and mechanical arts at trial and on appeal before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. In addition, Jeff appears frequently before the U.S. Patent Trial and Appeal Board in inter partes review patent proceedings. Jeff also advises clients on due diligence matters relating to launching new products, monitoring competitor products, and licensing patent portfolios. Jeff received his B.S. in Electrical Engineering from the University of Alabama and his J.D. from the University of Virginia.

DAN CENATEMPO is the Executive Director of FairValue Advisors, LLC. He has over twenty five years of progressive experience in valuation, finance and economics. He has been qualified as a testifying expert on intellectual property and commercial damages and values in U.S. Federal court and by various States, local and regulatory bodies. He has provided expert opinions and testified numerous times on patent, copyright, trademark and trade secret values and damages, commercial damages, shareholder and partner disputes, lost profits, reasonable royalties, diminution of value, lost goodwill and business and securities values. His experience also includes technology and intellectual property evaluation, selection, licensing, and transfer pricing, due diligence, business and fraud investigation, negotiation support, mergers, acquisitions, divestitures, joint-ventures, financing and re-capitalizations, economic research and analysis, corporate budgeting, investment analysis, and planning.

JASON CHANG is an Assistant Vice President - Senior Legal Counsel (Intellectual Property) at AT&T. He has been on the cutting edge of Intellectual Property issues for a number of years, with significant experience as both outside counsel and in-house counsel. Jason is the head of AT&T’s patent prosecution team, where he and his team of 6 in-house patent attorneys manage AT&T’s portfolio of over ten thousand patents. AT&T owns one of the strongest patent portfolios in the communications industry and consistently ranks in the top 25 companies each year in obtaining new U.S. patents. Jason also negotiates Intellectual Property issues with some of the largest vendors and suppliers in the world, with particular expertise in resolving IP ownership and IP infringement issues. Prior to going in-house at AT&T, Jason distinguished himself as a Senior Associate at Sutherland in Atlanta Georgia, where he had a broad practice in helping his clients acquire, enforce, and defend against patents and other IP rights. While at Sutherland, Jason co-founded a division of the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program which assists in tax preparation services for low-income families. Jason is involved with the National Asian Pacific American Bar Association (NAPABA) and its Georgia Affiliate, GAPABA. He served on the host committee for the 2008 NAPABA Southeast Regional Conference and the 2011 NAPABA Convention. Jason has also held several officer positions at GAPABA including as Vice-President of Communications and Treasurer, where he oversaw a complete overhaul of the GAPABA website and brought them electronic payment capabilities which is now one of GAPABA’s primary means of collecting payments.

THEODORE CLAYPOOLE leads the Womble Carlyle IP Transaction Team, its FinTech Team and its Privacy and Cyber Security Team, and he chairs of the Cyberspace Law Committee in the Business Law Section of the American Bar Association. He serves as the Liaison between the ABA Business Law Section and the Standing Committee on Law and National Security. He formerly served as in-house technology counsel for Bank of America and for CompuServe. A regular speaker on the topic, Ted was selected four times as a presenter for the RSA Data Security Conference in San Francisco, where he talked about the future of biometric security, the reasonable expectation of privacy, and corporate security structures. He has published recent articles on A Lawyer’s Role in Corporate Data Security, Lessons Learned from Recent Data Breaches, The Law of Cyberspying, Data Security in the Internet of Things, and Location Tracking under U.S. Law. He is co-author with Theresa Payton of two books from Rowman & Littlefield Publishers titled Privacy in the Age of Big Data and Protecting Your Internet Identity: Are You Naked Online?

BILL COOK is Intellectual Property Counsel at Eaton Corporation, where he manages various intellectual property issues for Eaton’s lighting division. Bill’s responsibilities include development and enforcement of the company’s patent and trademark portfolios, as well as intellectual property due diligence regarding new product development and business development activities including acquisitions. Prior to joining Eaton, Bill was a patent attorney at Eversheds Sutherland, where he worked on patent prosecution and litigation matters for numerous international companies. Bill holds a B.S. in Electrical Engineering from the University of Florida and a J.D. from the University of Florida Levin College of Law.

KEVIN CRANMAN served recently as Senior Group Legal Counsel for Ericsson Inc. and was General Counsel for Ericsson Television Inc. (Americas Region), where he handled commercial transactions for software and SaaS solutions for video, media, and telecommunications technologies; IP development and protection; R&D, vendor and supply chain matters; M&A and corporate matters; HR and employment issues; litigation and dispute management; and whatever else darkened the door step. Previously, he served as in-house counsel at Panasonic Mobile Communications, the Georgia Institute of Technology, and other technology ventures (including the obligatory dot-com), as Lead Counsel and Board Secretary for Glenayre Technologies, and in a business role at BellSouth Intellectual Property. He serves on the Executive Committee of the Atlanta IP Inn of Court and has been named twice to IAM’s Strategy 300, IAM’s list of the World’s 300 Leading IP Strategists.

He received his BA and JD from the University of Georgia.

JOHNS CURRY, a Partner in the Intellectual Property and Technology group at Dentons US LLP, litigates patent, intellectual property, and technology cases. An experienced litigator with a science degree and considerable technical expertise, Josh’s clients call upon him because of his understanding of technology and ability to achieve successful results when enforcing and defending their IP rights. He has represented both large and small clients from a variety of industries in cases across a wide range of technologies and in courts and proceedings throughout the United States.

MARCUS DELGADO is Assistant General Counsel for Cox Enterprises, a global privately-owned group of businesses that includes Cox Communications, Cox Media Group, and Cox Automotive. He manages all high-risk intellectual property litigation for the companies. Marcus joined Cox in 2003, as the Chief Intellectual Property Counsel for Cox Communications, where he managed all of Cox’s intellectual property litigation, prosecution, and counseling matters. Prior to Cox, he was Chief Patent Counsel for BellSouth Corporation, a telecommunications company, where he handled patent prosecution and intellectual property strategy. He previously worked as an attorney at Kilpatrick Townsend, Graham & James, and Davis Wright Tremaine, litigating and counseling clients on a variety of patent, trademark, copyright, and trade secret matters. Mr. Delgado holds a Physics degree from Boston University, and has a J.D. from UCLA School of Law.

JOHN DiRICO is Intellectual Property Counsel for VMware, Inc., primarily serving the Enterprise Mobility Management and Hybrid-Cloud Computing business units. In this role, John manages the invention disclosure and patent harvesting processes, oversees the preparation and prosecution of U.S. and international patent applications, interfaces with business and R&D functions to provide IP and strategic counseling, and provides technical support for litigation and IPR proceedings. John joined AirWatch out of law school in 2011, which was acquired by VMware in 2014. John received his J.D. from the University of Florida College of Law, his B.S. in Industrial and Systems Engineering from the Georgia Institute of Technology, and his Advanced Computer Security professional certificate from Stanford University.

LAURA FAHEY FRITTS is Director, Patent and License Strategy & Chief Intellectual Property Officer at Emory University, Office of Technology Transfer and Emory Patent Group, where she oversees Emory’s in-house patent group, provides contracting advice to the licensing team, and ensures compliance of executed licenses. Before joining Emory, Ms. Fritts spent twelve years representing branded and generic pharmaceutical companies in Abbreviated New Drug Application (“ANDA”) litigation arising under the Hatch-Waxman Act. Ms. Fritts is a graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where she was a chemistry major. She received her MPH/MBA from the University of Alabama at Birmingham before graduating from law school at Emory in 2002.

CREIGHTON FROMMER is Chief Counsel, Intellectual Property at RELX Group. RELX Group is the parent company of Elsevier, Reed Exhibitions, LexisNexis Legal & Professional, and locally, LexisNexis Risk Solutions. A graduate of the Georgia State University College of Law and Georgia Tech, Creighton has been practicing IP and Technology law in-house for 10 years. He served on the GSU IP Advisory Board and as President of the Association of Corporate Counsel’s Georgia Chapter. RELX Group’s international IP team manages the business’ global portfolio of 7000+ trademark registrations and 400+ patent applications and registrations, and works with thousands of valuable
Evan Glover provides practical legal advice and guidance to solve complex technology and commercial problems. He currently serves as Law Vice President, Chief Software & Services Counsel to NCR Corporation. Formerly, Glover served as senior counsel at The General Electric Company and Legal Director for Sony’s mobile group companies in North & South America. He also served as Corporate Counsel to Sage Software for five years. Glover started his practice at King & Spalding in 2001.

Matt Goodwin is currently Chief Intellectual Property Counsel for Newell Brands, fundamentally a new consumer and commercial products company with annual revenues of $16 billion arising from the integration of Newell Rubbermaid and Jarden. He joined Newell in January 2017, and is responsible for developing and leading the intellectual property function for this new enterprise. Previously, Matt was General Counsel, Intellectual Property, for Unilever, based both in London and the US. He led a staff of patent attorneys and support personnel at locations in the UK, The Netherlands, US, India and China. He has over twenty-five years of extensive experience as a corporate patent practitioner, having worked in various staff and supervisory roles at Johnson & Johnson, and at Imperial Chemical Industries, before joining Unilever in 2009. Prior to his career as a patent attorney, Matt worked as a chemical engineer for Rohm and Haas. Matt was recognized in 2014 by the National Law Journal in its inaugural “Intellectual Property Trailblazers & Pioneers” as one of the top 50 Intellectual Property Lawyers who are “raising the bar” in Intellectual Property law. He has direct hands-on experience across multiple business sectors and technologies and has demonstrated global leadership including management of diverse multi-national teams. Matt holds a Bachelor of Science degree in chemical engineering from the University of Maryland and a Juris Doctor degree from Temple University School of Law.

Phil Gura currently serves as Chief Legal Officer and Executive Director Fuel Retail of Sionic Mobile Corporation, a connected commerce company based in Atlanta, Georgia. Prior to joining Sionic Mobile, Phil served as Chief Legal Officer and Head of Government Relations for the Merchant Customer Exchange LLC or MCX. At MCX, he worked closely with top executives from many of the largest and most influential retailers in the world, including Wal-Mart, Target, CVS, Phillips 66, and Southwest Airlines, to name a few. Phil led MCX’s legal group with responsibilities for governance, regulatory/compliance, privacy/data security and intellectual property efforts. Phil has more than fifteen years’ experience as the chief legal officer of major corporations, including MCX, RaceTrac Petroleum Inc. and LaRoche Industries, Inc. All told, he has more than thirty years of transactional, technology and consulting corporate law experience with partnerships in major law firms, including Sutherland and Nelson Mullins. Gura also established his own firm, Gura Law General Counsel Services, LLC, providing outsourced C-level legal and strategic guidance.

Hanns Halleius is currently heading the Patent activities of Electrolux Group, a leading global provider of powered home appliances, where he has held leading IP positions since 2006. In addition to the responsibility for everyday activities in the Patent area, he drives change in IP management, to align IP strategy and organisation with the business strategy of Electrolux Group in a changing business environment. From 1994 to 2005, he has worked for IP law firm Awapatent, most of that time in management positions. His educational background includes an M. Sc. from Chalmers University of Technology, Gothenburg, and an MBA from Copenhagen Business School.
BRENDA O. HOLMES is a Partner in the Atlanta office of Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton LLP. She concentrates her practice in the areas of patent strategy and analysis for international and domestic companies. She assists clients in protecting their innovations and in navigating third party rights. Ms. Holmes holds a J.D. from the University of Florida, a MS in Computer Engineering from Florida Atlantic University, and a BS in Electrical Engineering from the University of Florida. She is admitted to the bar in Georgia and Florida and is a registered patent attorney.

PROFESSOR DAVID HRICIK practiced law for 15 years before starting to teach at Mercer in 2002. He represented clients in major patent and trademark litigation matters, and also defended law firms against multimillion dollar legal malpractice claims. Since coming to Mercer, he has taught ethics, patent law, federal civil procedure, and remedies. He is a member of the American Law Institute, clerked for chief judge Rader in 2012, and is the author and coauthor of the only treatises on ethics in patent practice. He is Of Counsel to Taylor English Dumas and he continues to represent clients and consult with firms on matters of discipline, malpractice, and patent practice.

DR. JUDY JARECKI-BLACK is Head, Patent Prosecution and Patent Litigation, of Boehringer Ingleheim Animal Health. Dr. Jarecki-Black is admitted to the state bars of Georgia and South Carolina, and is admitted to practice before several federal courts including the United States Supreme Court. Since 2002, Dr. Black’s department maintains and enforces the global patent portfolio for Merial (now Boehringer Ingleheim Animal Health). Her department obtains patent protection, generates patentability and freedom-to-operate opinions, and conducts due diligence for a variety of licensing opportunities. Dr. Jarecki-Black is also responsible for global patent litigation and leads the trial team on all patent cases.

JESSICA KATTULA is Patent Counsel at Newell Brands, where she handles various aspects of the company’s patent matters. Before joining Newell, Jessica practiced at the law firms King & Spalding LLP and Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP. She earned her J.D. from Georgia State University and her B.S.E. in Industrial and Operations Engineering from the University of Michigan.

JEFFREY R. KUESTER works in all areas of intellectual property and is Co-Chair of the IP Practice and Patent Practice at Taylor English, an innovative business law firm with many attorneys having in-house experience. Jeff has been ranked one of the Top 100 Attorneys in Georgia and one of the Top 1000 Patent Attorneys in the world. He is Vice-Chair of the Intellectual Property Advisory Board for the GSU College of Law and previously served as Chair of both the Intellectual Property Law Section and the Technology Law Section of the State Bar of Georgia, both of which received the “Section of the Year Award” under his leadership. Prior to receiving his law degree from the GSU College of Law, Jeff earned his Bachelor of Electrical Engineering degree (with honors) from Georgia Tech while working for IBM and Georgia Power Company. Jeff currently serves on the ABA’s Commission on Lawyer Assistance Programs Advisory Committee and as Chair of the ABA Substance Abuse and Mental Health Committee of the IPL Section, in addition to serving the State Bar of Georgia as Chair of the Lawyer Assistance Committee and as a member of the Board of Governors.

ELIZABETH LESTER joined Equifax Inc. as Intellectual Property Counsel in April 2015, where she is responsible for developing and implementing the global intellectual property strategy. Prior to Equifax, she was an associate at Sutherland Asbill & Brennan LLP. She received her JD from Georgia State University College of Law, has a Master's Degree in chemical engineering from Georgia Institute of Technology, and a Bachelor’s Degree in chemical engineering. from University of Kentucky. Elizabeth is active in a variety of professional and community activities, including co-leading her daughter’s Girl Scout troop, co-chairing the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society Georgia Chapter Team in Training Volunteer League, and running half and full marathons.

KENNETH M. MASSARONI is Executive Vice President, Law for Seagate Technology PLC and was previously General Counsel, and Chief Administrative Officer at Seagate. Prior to that Ken served as Seagate’s Chief Intellectual Property Counsel. Before joining Seagate, Ken was Vice President and Deputy General Counsel for Scientific-Atlanta, Inc. Ken earned a B.S. in Chemistry from Butler University and a J.D. from Indiana University.

HEATHER E. McNAY is the Group IP Counsel for the Swiss corporation Landis+Gyr AG, at its North American headquarters in Alpharetta, Georgia. Landis+Gyr is a leading global manufacturer of energy management products, including smart meters, load control devices and advanced grid analytics. There she manages all intellectual property portfolios for the company globally and handles all related licensing and litigation matters. After earning her Bachelor’s in Electrical Engineering from Georgia Tech, Heather earned a law degree from the University of Georgia. She is a registered patent attorney and a member of the Georgia Bar.

RADHA MURPHY is Global Chief IP Counsel at Imerys SA, where she serves on the legal executive committee, the North American leadership team and the global innovation team, supporting the protection, growth and monetisation of intellectual property. Ms. Murphy’s career spans almost 20 years working in large general practice firms, as well as Fortune 500 and large European-based multinational companies. Her experience includes senior-level global positions focused on creating optimum strategies for managing IP portfolios, IP competitive intelligence, IP litigation and multimillion-dollar IP licensing deals in disruptive technologies. Ms. Murphy holds a BSc in chemical engineering and a JD from the University of Oklahoma.

MATT NESBITT is senior corporate counsel at The Home Depot where he counsels clients on numerous issues related to all aspects of intellectual property law. Matt spends the majority of his time on trademark and patent clearance projects and managing the enforcement of trademark rights. Prior to joining The Home Depot, Matt worked for several years as an associate at Finnegan where he litigated patents in courts throughout the country and drafted numerous freedom to operate and clearance opinions. Matt also served as a law clerk at the Northern District of Georgia. Matt earned his law degree from Emory University and has a bachelor’s degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Cincinnati.

JUSTIN J. OLIVER is a partner in the law firm of Fitzpatrick, Cella, Harper & Scinto. Justin’s practice focuses on inter partes proceedings at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, reexaminations, reissues, licensing, and opinions. He is the Chair of the firm’s PTO Contested Proceedings Practice Group. In that role, he has overseen detailed statistical analysis of the PTAB’s decisions in IPRs, PGRs, and CBMs. He has also served as lead counsel in numerous PTAB cases involving technologies such as pharmaceuticals, electronics, medical devices, and consumer goods. Justin is recognized in IAM 1000 The World’s Leading Patent Litigators 2014-2017 as a leading attorney. He is also listed in Legal 500 for Patent Prosecution.
JASON PERILLA is an intellectual property attorney at Thomas | Horstemeyer, LLP. Jason focuses on all aspects of patent law, including patent application preparation and prosecution, patent litigation, post-grant review, and opinions. Jason earned his law degree from Catholic University of America, Columbus School of Law and has a bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering from Rochester Institute of Technology. Jason served as a primary patent examiner at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, focusing on U.S. Class 375, digital communications. At the USPTO, Jason became familiar with industry-leading digital data modulation, demodulation, coding, decoding, and spread spectrum techniques. Jason has worked on hundreds of U.S. and foreign patents in the fields of communications, software, control systems, and mechanical devices and systems, among others.

GENE POTKAY is Senior Vice President, Intellectual Property at Nielsen responsible for all Nielsen IP worldwide ranging from invention harvesting and review, patent and trademark prosecution, assertion, licensing and litigation, defensive matters, standards participation, use of and contribution to open source, IP support in commercial contracts, and conducting due diligence and providing IP advice on mergers & acquisitions. Prior to his 10 years at Nielsen, Gene was VP Licensing at Avaya, and previously held a range of positions at Lucent and AT&T responsible for various IP functions supporting monetization. He holds a Ph.D. in Engineering from Brown University, a Masters in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Florida and a B.S.M.E. from the University of Massachusetts. Prior to his work in IP, he was a Member of Technical Staff at AT&T Bell Laboratories working in the optical fiber field. He has been a long-standing member of the Gathering, the IP Best Practices Group and past member of the IPO and LES.

AL RIDDLE currently holds the position of Associate General Counsel, Intellectual Property for Baker Hughes, a GE company. This position was created in July of 2017 when Baker Hughes merged with the GE Oil and Gas division of GE. BHGE is a separately and independently traded public company from GE. In this role, Al and his department are responsible for the identification and protection of all proprietary technologies and services developed and commercialized at BHGE. Prior to the merger Al held the position of Vice President/General Counsel, Products and Technology at Baker Hughes. Al has been employed at Baker Hughes since 1996 and became Chief Patent Counsel in 1999, after serving as lead IP counsel for several divisions within what is now BHGE. From 2005 – 2008 Al also held the position of Director of Technology for Baker Hughes. Al has a Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering from The University of Texas at Austin as well as a Juris Doctor degree from South Texas College of Law in Houston. Al is a founding member of the Houston IP Inn of Court and a past president of the Houston Intellectual Property Law Association.

AMI PATEL SHAH is Managing Director at Fortress Investment Group and a partner of Fortress’ IP Investment Group, a $70+ Billion dollar hedge fund providing the U.S.’s first structured patent debt financing platform, providing companies unique access to capital based upon the asset value of their patent portfolios. Prior to joining Fortress, she was head of Global Wireless, Patents, for Intel Corporation for over 10 years where she oversaw the company’s patent procurement, licensing, transaction and monetization activities for Intel and Intel’s development partners. Before joining Intel, she was an associate in the law firms of Dorsey & Whitney, and Fish & Richardson. Ms. Shah began her career as an Examiner in the United States Patent Office. Ms. Shah is recognized as one of The World’s Leading IP Strategists by Intellectual Asset Magazine in the IAM 300, awarded to individuals with an established track record in developing and rolling out world-class IP value creation programs. She holds a juris doctorate and degrees in Electrical and Computer Engineering. She maintains an office in the Washington D.C. area with Fortress, where she is a member of both Maryland Bar and is registered to practice before the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

KIRK SOMERS is the Chief Legal, Privacy, and People Officer at Cardlytics. Prior to Cardlytics, Kirk was executive vice president and chief administrative officer at Think Geek, responsible for legal, privacy and human resources. Kirk served as executive vice president of Corporate Affairs for Concurrent where he led legal, investor relations and human resources for Computer Corporation, a provider of software, hardware and professional services for the video market. Prior to joining Concurrent, Kirk was the assistant general counsel for Melita International Inc., a.k.a. eShare Communications, Inc for three years and prior to that he was a partner in the Ohio law firm of Marshall & Melhorn, practicing in the area of litigation. He started his legal career as an attorney in the U.S. Air Force, during which time he tried over 40 cases. Kirk earned a Bachelor of Arts in physics from Cornell University and his J.D. from the Ohio State College of Law. He is a member of the U.S. patent bar.

ROBERT STARR is a registered patent attorney and is currently Senior Counsel with ARRIS focusing on patent litigation. Previously he worked for AT&T in developing and monetizing patent assets, and before that he prosecuted patents and provided litigation support at a law firm, primarily with clients in the telecommunications and networking equipment industries. Prior to attending law school, Bob worked as an engineer with Mitel and BellSouth. Bob has engineering degrees from Georgia Tech, a business degree from Georgia State, and a law degree from Emory.

ANDREW STRICKLAND is a Patent Attorney at Lee & Hayes, PLLC where he has a mixed practice spending half of his time litigation patent disputes and the other half advising clients concerning the development of their patent portfolios. Andrew has litigated patent disputes in United States District Court, before the PTAB, and before the ITC. His clients have included those in the musical instrument, gaming, financial services, electronic commerce, transportation, textile, and telecommunication industries. Before attending Emory University School of Law, he worked as a software engineer developing hardware configuration and control software, with an emphasis in military training and video systems. He also owned and operated recording studio and worked as a record producer.

ADRIAN TOUTOUNGI has extensive experience of all aspects of intellectual property, in particular complex patent litigation in a number of industry sectors. He has recently advised on disputes involving pharmaceuticals, somatic cell therapy, semiconductor chip design, inkjet printing technology, digital compression algorithms, LCD flat-panel technology, telecoms and pharmaceuticals. He also frequently helps clients with disputes involving confidential information, database rights, trade marks, copyright and designs. Away from the court room, he is regularly involved in the negotiation and drafting of technology license agreements and other contracts relating to IP such as R&D collaborations, joint ventures, co-promotions and other commercial arrangements. He also advises on the EC and UK competition law aspects of these agreements, and issues relating to technical standardization, essential IPR and patent pooling. He has a wealth of experience in handling the IP aspects of many major corporate transactions, including for FTSE 100 and Fortune 500 corporations. Adrian is a Solicitor-Advocate and has advised clients on disputes in the Patents County Court, the High Court, the Court of Appeal and the European Court of Justice/Court of First Instance. After obtaining a first-class degree in Physics from Oxford University, he qualified as a solicitor and gained an LLM from the College of Europe in Bruges, where he focused on EC competition law and intellectual property. Adrian also has a diploma in IP law from Bristol University. He is a member of TIPLO (The Intellectual Property Lawyers Organization), AIPPI (The International Association for the Protection of Intellectual Property) and EPLAW (the European Patent Lawyers Association) and publishes and speaks regularly on a variety of intellectual property issues.

CHERYL TUBACH is Chief Intellectual Property Counsel at J.M Huber Corporation, where she handles all aspects of the company’s intellectual property portfolio, including due diligence issues relating to company products. Cheryl previously worked as Patent Counsel for both The Coca-Cola Company and Eastman Chemical Company. She also held the position of Director of Corporate Intellectual Property Affairs at Myers & Kaplan. In addition, Cheryl is a current member of the Board of Directors for Georgia Lawyers for the Arts. Cheryl holds a B.S. in Chemical Engineering from the University of Kentucky and a J.D. from the Georgia State University College of Law.

NAKUL WARRIER is Assistant General Counsel for Commercial and IP litigation at Ricoh USA, Inc. (based in Malvern, PA). Prior to joining Ricoh, Nakul was at Blank Rome in Philadelphia, PA for six years, where he focused on IP, antitrust and securities litigation. Nakul attended the Villanova University School of Law and did his undergraduate work at Penn State University. Prior to law school, Nakul was a management consultant at Andersen Consulting (now Accenture) for four years.

M. DAVID WEINGARTEN is an attorney in the Atlanta office of Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow, Garrett & Dunner, LLP. Dr. Weingarten has a diverse intellectual property practice focusing on patent litigation before U.S. district courts and the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC), post-grant trial proceedings at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO), prosecution, and strategic portfolio management. Prior to practicing law, he spent more than a decade in the pharmaceutical industry developing drugs across a wide range of therapeutic areas. Dr. Weingarten received his J.D. and Ph.D. in Organic Chemistry from Emory University and a B.S. in Chemistry from the University of West Florida.

RHETT WHITE is Intellectual Property Counsel at Superior Essex Inc. where he is responsible for a wide-range of intellectual property issues, including patent prosecution, due diligence on new and competitor products, and providing advice on mergers and acquisitions. Rhett previously worked at Eversheds Sutherland, where he handled patent prosecution for a variety of major international companies. Rhett holds a B.S. in Computer Engineering from Georgia Tech University and a J.D. from the University of Georgia School of Law.

ROBERT WILLIAMSON is President of ipPerformance Group, an intellectual property advisory, benchmarking, and training firm. He brings more than 25 years of experience in business and innovation management to the table combined with unparalleled access to many of today’s leading IP and business leaders. Prior to founding ipPerformance, Rob was on the senior management team at Thomson-Delphion and a business director at Pitney Bowes and active inventor; having been granted 4 patents. Rob has benchmarked over 600 IP driven companies around the globe over the last ten years, Rob investigates operational practices, workflow processes, software tools, and performance metrics. Additionally, he has developed over twenty-five IP stakeholder courses. He holds B.S. degrees from Syracuse University’s S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications and Whitman School of Management.

RODNEY M. YOUNG is the Sr. Legal Director, Chief IP Counsel, for Spine & Biologics in the Restorative Therapies Group (RTG) of Medtronic, plc., with his office located in Memphis, TN. He has over 23 years of experience handling complex intellectual property and transactional matters, including managing patent portfolios and attorneys, for multinational corporations including Medtronic, GE, Kroger, and Procter & Gamble. Rodney was previously a partner in the law firm of Thompson Hine in Cincinnati, OH and worked in the law firm of Ice Miller in Indianapolis, IN. He also led process improvements in the role of a Six-Sigma master black belt while at GE. Rodney has given numerous presentations and has participated on various panels during his career. He earned his J.D. from Salmon P. Chase
College of Law (1994) and a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Alabama (1982). He has also received the Distinguished Departmental Fellow award from the University of Alabama, Department of Mechanical Engineering (2015). Before obtaining his law degree, Rodney worked as an engineer for about 10 years in field service, process/quality control, and design engineering. He is registered to practice before the USPTO and admitted to practice law in the states of Indiana, Ohio and Tennessee. Rodney currently resides in Cordova, TN with his wife (Diane) and their daughter (Jennifer).