

February 7, 2012

Julian Conrad Juergensmeyer Updates the Sum & Substance Quick Review on Property

Julian Conrad Juergensmeyer has recently co-authored an updated version of the Sum & Substance Quick Review on Property with Carol Necole Brown. This supplement, now in its fifth edition, has become an essential tool for first year law students.

The concise, outline format of the Quick Review provides students with a big picture of property law in a minimal amount of time. The case squibs make reviewing cases quick and easy. Featuring review questions at the end of each chapter and practice multiple choice and essay questions with answers in the last few chapters, students can test their knowledge and determine where they should focus their studies during exam time.

Julian Juergensmeyer is a Professor of Law, Ben F. Johnson Jr. Chair in Law, and Director of the Center for the Comparative Study of Metropolitan Growth at Georgia State University's College of Law. He is also an adjunct professor of planning at Georgia Institute of Technology. Professor Juergensmeyer is the author of nearly 100 books and articles on Property Law, Land Use Planning and Control Law, Environmental Law, Growth Management Law, and Agricultural Law. Carol Necole Brown is a Professor of Law at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.