

- 1 In The News
- 2 Student Organizations
- 3 Careers
- 4 Inside the ULB
- 5 Student Life & Activities
- 6 Pro Bono
- 7 Editorial
- 8 For Fun / Classifieds

The Events Guide for
Law Week
Inside the ULB
Page 4

Everybody Reads The Docket!!

INSIDE

So many organizations... so little time.

Want to know the basics about the law school student organizations? See The Docket's Guide to Student Organizations!

02

03

Spotlight on: Valencia Lewis

She's the only person who sends out more email than Tricia, makes sure you have a locker for the school year and is the most elusive person on campus... Valencia Lewis! Find out more about the other face behind the emails.

04

06

On the other hand...

07

Downtime Fun

Try your hand at the Word Search. This month's edition is dedicated to the words you never used before law school.

08

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The University System of Georgia is announcing today (March 7) that Georgia State is transferring its University Village to Georgia Tech.

This transfer of the Village will provide resources needed to build more student housing on our campus, a component of our updated master plan that calls for an additional 4,500 beds over the next 10 years. Also, research shows that students who live on campus are more involved in campus life, get better grades and graduate more quickly.

Georgia Tech will begin occupancy of the Village beginning with the Fall 2007 semester.

Law Day is May 1. Celebrated every year since 1958, Law Day is, in the words of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, "a day of national dedication to the principles of government under law." Consider taking part in a Law Day commemoration this year. Learn more at <http://www.lawday.org>.

Congressional Resolution Establishing Law Day (1961)

US Code, Title 36, Section 164

The first day of May of each year is hereby designated as Law Day, U.S.A. It is set aside as a special day of celebration by the American people in appreciation of their liberties and the reaffirmation of their loyalty to the United States of America; of their rededication to the ideals of equality and justice under law in their relations with each other as well as with other nations; and for the cultivation of that respect for law that is so vital to the democratic way of life.

Suntrust Building

The President of the United States is authorized and requested to issue a proclamation calling upon all public officials to display the flag of the United States on all government buildings on such day and inviting the people of the United States to observe such day with suitable ceremonies and other appropriate ways, through public bodies and private organizations as well as in schools and other suitable places.

Dean Kelly Timmons

Guide to Student Organizations

By Suzanne Lee-Jackson

Ever wonder what BLSA, B&LS & SHLA stand for? Or, are you just happy they are not another group of mnemonics to memorize for your Property exam? Joining a student organization is a great way to meet and work with other students who share the same interests. Each year, students at GSU-College of Law have a host of student organizations to choose from. With so many choices, there is something for everyone, and thus, it may be hard to decide which to join. Here are the current organizations, along with their respective mission statements. Read on, find your passion!

American Constitution Society

Provide a forum for students of GSU College of Law to explore progressive legal debate and development of new progressive ideas and scholarship.

Asian American Law Students

To foster and improve ties between Asian American Law students and Members of the Asian American Bar and Bench and the legal community as a whole. To foster an environment conducive to the continued advancement of Asian American law students and to ensure their success as future attorneys.

Association of Women Law Students (AWLS)

To show concern about the under representation and lack of parity of women in the legal profession.

Black Law Students Association (BLSA)

To articulate and promote the professional needs and goals of black law students while seeking to influence the legal community to bring about meaningful change to meet the needs of the Black community.

Business & Law Society (B&LS)

To foster a broad understanding of business issues facing attorneys today. To focus on the interest of JD/MBA candidates, providing an introduction of business issues that affects the careers of business and law students.

Child Advocacy Society

To promote the exchange of ideas and the creation and fulfillment of opportunities related to child advocacy in law, policy, health and education.

Christian Legal Society

To maintain a vibrant Christian Fellowship on GSU's College of Law campus which enables our members to love the Lord with our whole beings-- hearts, souls, and minds-- and to love our neighbors as ourselves.

Environmental Law Society

Seeks to provide a forum for law students to explore the field of environmental law, a network of students and professionals to support professional growth.

Federalist Society

To embrace the principle that the state exists to preserve freedom, the separation of governmental powers is central to the integrity of the Constitution, and that it is province and duty of judiciary to say what the law is and not what it should be. To promote an awareness of these principles through activities.

Hispanic Student Bar Association

To play an active role in the furthering of Hispanic awareness and interests within the GSU College of Law and the legal community.

Immigration Law Society (ILS)

To further the awareness of immigration issues, volunteer with the Atlanta legal community, and seek to increase interest in the practice of Immigration law.

Intellectual Property Law Society (IPLS)

Provide members with opportunities to network with practicing IP attorneys. To learn more about Intellectual Property art and technology issues, and also provide a forum for students to work together to build their legal careers.

International and Comparative Law Society

To promote the study of international law and legal topics such as international human rights, state-to-state relations, and international business issues. To strengthen ties between its students members and the legal community.

James Olgethorpe Legal Society

To expose the rest of Georgia lawyers to the excellent talent that been and is being molded and refined at our school by putting on different legal programs.

Jewish Law Student Association

To share an interest in Jewish legal issues and socio-political concerns and in meeting the needs and interest of Jewish law students.

Law Review

To publish a legal journal four times a year by 2nd and 3rd year GSU law students who have demonstrated outstanding writing and academic skills.

Law Students for Choice

This new COL organization seeks to educate, organize, and support law students to ensure that a new generation of advocates will be prepared to protect and expand reproductive rights as basic civil and human rights.

Moot Court

To develop each member's potential in written and oral advocacy and to represent the College of Law successfully in various Moot Court competitions, and to enhance each individual member's educational experience in law school.

OUTLaw

(formerly Lesbian and Gay Law Student Association) To support lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender (LGBT) law students at GSU by encouraging personal, social, professional, and academic development. To seek to be educational to the greater law school community.

Phi Alpha Delta (PAD)

To form a strong bond uniting students and teachers of law with members of the Bench and Bar in fraternal fellowship designed to advance the ideals of liberty and equal justice under law.

Public Interest Law Association

To educate students and the public at large about public interest law issues and seeks to promote the goals of public interest law in protecting the public rights.

Sports and Entertainment Law Society

To promote law school and its students in the Sports and Entertainment network in Atlanta. To provide information to our members concerning different opportunities in the Sports and Entertainment law field.

Student Bar Association

To serve the student body by acting as an advocate of all academic concerns, a promoter of student life, and a coordinator of all those peripheral functions that are integral to the achievement of academic excellence.

Student Health Law Association (SHLA)

To provide a organization for students with a legal interest in the healthcare field. Any student who is interested in health law issues, opportunities, and programs is encouraged to join.

Student Trial Lawyers Association (STLA)

To educate and train the future litigators in Georgia. To allow each student participant to learn and grow far beyond any level they could through only the curriculum of law school.

Law Review Board Announces Publication Selections

The Law Review Board announced that the following notes and comments were selected for publication for the 2007-2008 year:

An Unhealthy Nation: Why Lobbying Restrictions for Voluntary Health Care Organizations Don't Make Sense
 By Catherine Hammer

The Problem and the Solution: Using the Internet to Resolve Internet Copyright Disputes
 By Ted Solley

Lying to Catch the Bad Guy: The Eleventh Circuit's Likely Adoption of the Clear Error Standard of Review for a Denial of a Franks Hearing
 By Brittany Southerland

School Choice: Constitutionality and Possibility in Georgia
 By Patrick Ouzts

Roaming Off-Road Without a Map: The Supreme Court Rides with BLM in Southern Utah Wilderness Alliance and Steers NEPA towards Dangerous Territory
 By Aaron Kappler

The Constitutionality of Georgia's Sex Offender Residency Statute
 By Megan Iorio

Does the Power to Tax Compensation for Nonphysical Personal Injuries Really Involve the Power to Destroy?: Murphy v. IRS and the Constitutionality of Section 104(A)(2)
 By Jeff Phillips

Analyzing the Whistleblower Protection Act: At-Will Employment and the Future Fate of Georgia Whistleblowers
 By Seth Eisenberg

It's Their Body of Law; Let Them Do What They Want: The Supreme Court's Likelihood of Ruling that State Law Should Determine CERCLA Liability for Successor Corporations
 By John Sugg

Alternate 1: As Hurricanes End, Legal Storms Begin: The Insurance Battle Under State Valued Policy Laws
 By Christopher Conway

Alternate 2: The One-Year Limit on Removal: An Ace Up the Sleeve of the Unscrupulous Litigant?
 By Katie Floyd

Alternate 3: Societal, Legal and Scientific Issues Surrounding Victim Recantation in Child Sexual Abuse Cases
 By Cylinda Parga

Congratulations!

SHLA	AWLS	Law Review	PILA
OFFICERS FOR 2007-2008 Co-Presidents: Ernessa Brawley & Sean Devetter VP: Jonathan Lee Morris Treasurer: Meredith Riggs Events Coordinator: Heather Leigh Carter	EXECUTIVE BOARD	THE AWARD FOR 2006-2007 BEST STUDENT NOTE OR COMMENT The Problem and the Solution: Using the Internet to Resolve Internet Copyright Disputes, By Ted Solley	EXECUTIVE BOARD

---

B&LS Presents: The World of the in House Attorney

By Nicola Pasquerelli

---

Does your bar review course connect with your digital lifestyle?

adaptibar

The revolutionary new way to prepare for the Multistate Bar Exam.

www.AdaptiBar.com

Enroll online and receive a $50 discount or call us toll-free at: 1.877.466.1250

---

Law Week Events and Schedule

By John Gunn

FRIDAY, MARCH 29

7:00 p.m.—12:00 a.m.

WHAT: Law Week Kickoff Party

WHERE: Smith's Olde Bar

SPONSORS: SBA and LGLSA

DESCRIPTION: All students and faculty are welcome!

MONDAY, APRIL 1

12:00 p.m.

WHAT: "Religious Discrimination in the Workplace"

WHERE: Room 170

SPONSORS: ELLA and CLS

5:00 p.m.

WHAT: "Fellowships: Making Public Service Your Career"

WHERE: Room 170

SPONSORS: PILA and CSO

DESCRIPTION: Forum will feature a panel of NAPIL (now Equal Justice Works) Fellows, mainly GSU alumni, discussing fellowship opportunities and fellowships as a jump-start to one's legal career as well as the advantages of working in a public interest area.

TUESDAY, APRIL 2

12:00 p.m.

WHAT: "Keynote Speaker: Assistant District Attorney Kellie Hill (Al Amin's Prosecutor)"

WHERE: Room 170

SPONSOR: SBA

DESCRIPTION: Wrapping up work on her prosecution of Al Amin these past several months, Kellie Hill, Assistant District Attorney, will be speaking with GSU law students about the various "roles" she plays (attorney, prosecutor, African-American, and mother of two) and how all of these roles affect her life as an attorney.

5:00 p.m.

WHAT: "Media's Influence on Trials"

WHERE: Room 170

SPONSOR: THE DOCKET

DESCRIPTION: Forum on how media affects the outcome of criminal cases. J. Tom

Morgan, Dekalb County District Attorney who is prosecuting the Sidney Dorsey case, Robin McDonald with the Fulton County Daily Report, and Brian Mendehlon, Defense Attorney with the Federal Defender Program, who was one of the attorneys who worked on the Alex Williams death penalty case, will speak about the weighty role that media plays both incidentally and intentionally in the modern justice system.

5:00 p.m.

WHAT: Panel Discussion: "How to Succeed in the Practice of Law: Bridging the Cultural Gap From School to Practice"

WHERE: King & Spalding, 191 Peachtree St., 50th Floor

SPONSORS: Multi-Bar Leadership Council of Atlanta

DESCRIPTION: This is not a GSU COL sponsored event, but GSU students are invited.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3

12:00 p.m.

WHAT: "Anatomy of a Medical Malpractice Case: Plaintiff's Side and Defendant's Side"

WHERE: Room 100

SPONSORS: SHLA

DESCRIPTION: Well known plaintiff's attorney, Tommy Malone, and highly successful defense attorney, Lori Baer, with the firm of Alston & Bird will be presenting their opposing positions on preparing and presenting a medical malpractice case. The forum will include presentation of the issues involved on both sides of a malpractice case.

5:00 p.m.

WHAT: "Confronting Discrimination in the Courtroom"

WHERE: Room 170

SPONSORS: LGLSA and JLSA

DESCRIPTION: Speaker from Lambda Legal Defense will discuss the decision in Ex Parte H.H. and its affect on the gay/lesbian and religious communities. This was an Alabama Supreme Court case and contains a special concurrence from one justice who used religious reasoning to reinforce his argument in support of denying a lesbian woman custody of her children. T-shirt giveaways during Law Week from LGLSA and Lambda Legal Defense. Catered Reception Following.

THURSDAY, APRIL 4

12:00 p.m.

The Face Behind the Emails...Valencia Lewis

By Suzanne Lee-Jackson

You know the name, you've received the emails, let's get to know the person! Valencia Lewis is the Business Affairs Coordinator of the College of Law. In addition to listening to us beg to get in (or out) of classes, Tricia maintains our grades, organizes class schedules and formulates the rankings.

As someone who spends a lot of time in Tricia's office—not only to beg, but because she is a genuinely nice person, I had the opportunity to ask Tricia what she finds most interesting about working with law students. She told me that when she first considered the position, she was warned about the temperaments of law students (apparently from someone who works at one of those other law schools)—aggressive, bossy, impatient. However, she says in her experience at GSU, she has found that none of that is true about our students. She says we're funny, intelligent and great to talk to. I knew spending all of those hours in her office would pay off!

On another note, in the time I've spent in Tricia's office, I noticed she has books about serial killers. Seems we share the same fascination with what makes these people "tick." Interestingly enough, in reading the answers to her questions, I noticed she likes to chop things up...hmmmm...Enjoy!

Name: Valencia Lewis

Birthplace: Lexington, Mississippi

Hometown: Lexington, Mississippi

Position at the law school: Business Affairs Coordinator

Major responsibilities: Oversee Student Organization Budgets and Online Room Reservation Scheduling.

Favorite thing about working with law students:

Meeting and getting to know all the new students and keeping a relationship with them when they graduate. I have two very close friends that I met since I have been working here.

Why Georgia State University College of Law?

I can echo what Tricia Rackliff said in her interview, if you hang around long enough they will give you a job. Well, I am also an example of that statement because I started as a student Assistant in 1995 and in 1997 I became a full-time staff member. The atmosphere here at GSU College of Law is a very friendly one and the relationships with faculty, other staff members and students make it all worth coming to work everyday.

What did you do before coming to GSU-COL?

I was a student at Alcorn State University in Lorman, Mississippi.

Favorite Neighborhood: I can't think of any place right now

Valencia Lewis

Favorite Restaurant: C'est Bon Cajun Restaurant

Favorite watering hole: I frequent Manuel's Tavern a lot.

Favorite musical group: No particular group.

Name of 3 CD's that are currently in your stereo:

Lyfe, Gerald Levert and Alicia Keys

Favorite movie: The Color Purple, Pretty Woman (Richard Gere fan) and any movie with Vin Diesel.

Favorite book: The Left Behind Series (Tim LaHaye and Jerry Jenkins) and many, many others.

Favorite author: Bebe Moore Campbell, Catherine Coulter, John Grisham and others.

Favorite all-time T.V. show: The Cosby Show and Walker Texas Ranger

Favorite legal T.V. show: Boston Legal and The Practice

Favorite sport: Not a sport person

Favorite vacation spot: St. Simon Island

Three people dead or alive that you would like to have dinner with: Maya Angelou, John Kennedy, Jr. (John-John) and Ethel Hedgeman Lyle.

Favorite super hero: Wonder Woman

What did you want to be when you were growing up: Elementary School Teacher :).

Leaders Bid Goodbye

LeeAnne McWhirter, President, SBA

LeeAnne McWhirter has been the Student Bar Association President for two years. She graduated from [UNDERGRAD] and plans to [FUTURE PLANS]. Her advice for incoming students is [ADVICE].

Well, what can I say? It's been a great two years representing the students at the law school as SBA President. I learned many things about myself during this time. I learned that you can't please everyone, but you sure can enjoy it when your hard work does make people happy. I learned that I have a tendency to take on too much work at once and it's okay to ask for help. On that note, I want to thank the entire SBA board for all their hard work this year.

One of the best things about being SBA President for these two years is that it helped me meet a lot more people at GSU than I probably would have otherwise. I'm proud of the students at our school. It's great to be associated with such smart, motivated, honorable people. I sincerely mean it when I say thank you for the opportunity to serve you. I'm going to miss it.

LeeAnne Anthony,
SBA President

Mazie Lynn Causey, President, STLA

LeeAnne McWhirter has been the Student Bar Association President for two years. She graduated from [UNDERGRAD] and plans to [FUTURE PLANS]. Her advice for incoming students is [ADVICE].

Well, what can I say? It's been a great two years representing the students at the law school as SBA President. I learned many things about myself during this time. I learned that you can't please everyone, but you sure can enjoy it when your hard work does make people happy. I learned that I have a tendency to take on too much work at once and it's okay to ask for help. On that note, I want to thank the entire SBA board for all their hard work this year.

One of the best things about being SBA President for these two years is that it helped me meet a lot more people at GSU than I probably would have otherwise. I'm proud of the students at our school. It's great to be associated with such smart, motivated, honorable people. I sincerely mean it when I say thank you for the opportunity to serve you. I'm going to miss it.

LeeAnne Anthony,
SBA President

Blake Eno, Editor of the Law Review

LeeAnne McWhirter has been the Student Bar Association President for two years. She graduated from [UNDERGRAD] and plans to [FUTURE PLANS]. Her advice for incoming students is [ADVICE].

Well, what can I say? It's been a great two years representing the students at the law school as SBA President. I learned many things about myself during this time. I learned that you can't please everyone, but you sure can enjoy it when your hard work does make people happy. I learned that I have a tendency to take on too much work at once and it's okay to ask for help. On that note, I want to thank the entire SBA board for all their hard work this year.

One of the best things about being SBA President for these two years is that it helped me meet a lot more people at GSU than I probably would have otherwise. I'm proud of the students at our school. It's great to be associated with such smart, motivated, honorable people. I sincerely mean it when I say thank you for the opportunity to serve you. I'm going to miss it.

LeeAnne Anthony,
SBA President

Kasey Libby, President, Moot Court

LeeAnne McWhirter has been the Student Bar Association President for two years. She graduated from [UNDERGRAD] and plans to [FUTURE PLANS]. Her advice for incoming students is [ADVICE].

Well, what can I say? It's been a great two years representing the students at the law school as SBA President. I learned many things about myself during this time. I learned that you can't please everyone, but you sure can enjoy it when your hard work does make people happy. I learned that I have a tendency to take on too much work at once and it's okay to ask for help. On that note, I want to thank the entire SBA board for all their hard work this year.

One of the best things about being SBA President for these two years is that it helped me meet a lot more people at GSU than I probably would have otherwise. I'm proud of the students at our school. It's great to be associated with such smart, motivated, honorable people. I sincerely mean it when I say thank you for the opportunity to serve you. I'm going to miss it.

LeeAnne Anthony,
SBA President

Students on the Move!

Betsy Bulat Turner

3 Betsy Bulat was awarded the Best Student Note or Comment in Volume 23 of the GSU Law Review for her Note, The Relevance of Foreign Law as Persuasive Authority and Congresses Response to its Use: A Preemptive Attack on the Constitution Restoration Act.

You might see the next big fashion statement first on Betsy Bulat as she walks around the Urban Life hallways, but what you may not have known is that this fashionista packs a punch in the academic world. As a member of Law Review (and Student Writing Editor 2005-2006), she still has time to be a Graduate Research Assistant to both Professor Marjorie Girth and Adjunct Professor Greg Jones. In addition, she has been an active member of the International Comparative Law Society, serving as Treasurer in 2006/2007. An avid runner, international traveler and dog lover, Betsy will start a two-year federal clerkship with Magistrate Judge E. Clayton Scofield III in the Northern District of Georgia after the Bar Exam in July. We wish her luck in one day snagging that in-house counsel position with Yves Saint Laurent, Lanvin, Prada or some other mega fashion house!

Douglas Ohlson

3 Doug Ohlson served as the Treasurer for the Business & Law Society for two years. Doug says law school has been 3 of the best years of his life and if he could figure out a way to get paid for it, he might not leave.

We all know Douglas Ohlson as a major networker and the de facto social chair of the law school, but there is a lot more to the laid back charmer. Fluent in the Persian dialect of Farsi, Doug has been volunteering for the International Rescue Committee translating for and working with refugees from Iran for the past two years and has accumulated over 300 hours work. On top of all this, Doug has externed with Judge Thelma Wyatt Cummings Moore at the Fulton County Superior Court, and was a GRA for undergraduate Professor Palmer, all while working for an immigration firm doing asylum work. Doug hopes to continue working in immigration in a small firm or for the government after graduation.

Anthony Yannone

2 Tony Yannone is proof that sleep is highly overrated! In addition to taking classes to satisfy a dual-degree (and still finishing with his class!) he has been involved with the SBA since his first year and currently serves as the Vice-President.

Tony grew up in Lockport, NY (just outside of Buffalo) before heading off to the U.S. Naval Academy to earn a BS in English (yep, a BS... that's what you get when the core curriculum is engineering!). After graduation he was commissioned as an officer in the Navy and then assigned to the USS Patriot (in Sasebo, Japan) where he served as both the Damage Control Assistant and the Chief Engineer. He was quickly picked up for the Special Operations Community and moved back state-side to be trained as an Explosive Ordnance Disposal Technician. Once complete he was assigned as the Officer in Charge of a Bomb Squad (in San Diego, CA) where he and his men did everything from underwater demolition to Secret Service Support for the President.

And then, after eleven-plus years in the Navy, Lieutenant Tony Yannone made two very big changes. First, he married the beautiful and incredible Vilma Cortes on his very last day of active duty. And next, one week after the wedding and one week before school started, he and his new wife finally moved to their new and permanent home - Atlanta.

In his spare time Tony enjoys hanging out with Vilma and friends, goofing around with Yar (his little lion dog), playing Ultimate Frisbee, singing, and volunteering for charities (he'll

Alana Nichols

1 Alana Nichols is proof that 1Ls do not have to bury their heads in the books for an entire year. Ms. Nichols spearheaded Pre-Law Day in recognition of Minority Recruitment Month. With over 40 students in attendance, the event was truly successful.

Growing up in rural Mississippi, becoming an attorney was one of those seemingly unattainable dreams. Just the thought of escaping the confinements of dirt roads and the truth that many of my childhood friends would be left behind was enough to keep me busy.

However, I did it. I left home at fifteen years of age to attend the Mississippi School for Math and Science and haven't looked back since, except during my bouts of homesickness! The most rewarding of my endeavors since coming to law school this past fall has been the Pre-Law Day. The most satisfying part of the day of things that I have learned in my short time here. One of the most valuable things I gained from this event was also the ability to work so closely with the wonderful people in the Office of Admissions, who made the event a stunning success.

The experience I have had thus far has been a challenging, yet amazing one. The people I have met have been by far the most intriguing. There are many things that I have in store for the upcoming years and there are already a lot of things that I have learned in my short time here. But one of the most important lessons I've learned has been that life is truly too short to toil with miniscule things. I love to make people laugh and as silly as it sounds, as long as I'm able to do that, then I'm content Alana attended

---

Student Loan Forgiveness Bill Considered for Prosecutors & Public Defenders

By Suzanne Lee-Jackson

Public defender salary (average):	$43,000
Monthly take-home pay (after tax):	$2,606
Cumulative education debt (private, average):	$78,763
Monthly loan payments (120 month/6.8%):	$906
Amount left for living expenses:	$1700

---

By Adam S. Levin

---

By John Gunn

---

... On The Other Hand

By Eric Rogers

On the other hand...
 ...the other hand...

PRO

I'll Pass On The Carrot, thank you.

By Adam S. Levin

Law school class rankings and the grades on which they are based are the number one factor affecting one's ability to secure the highest paid legal jobs.<sup>1</sup> And even if you're not looking for the highest paid job, a stellar ranking won't hurt your job search. Law students in the habit of thinking rationally should seek out classes that give the highest grades to achieve a higher ranking. Fortunately, GSU law school administrators released a grade book that allows students to do just that.

If you didn't grade-shop before the grade book, you'd be an idiot not to now. At least, you should grade shop until the law school does something about the patently unbalanced grade distribution.

Admittedly, grade disparities between same subject classes has dissipated, but it has not disappeared. Why should law students take Professor A's class over Professor B's when the former has an average of 79.5 and the latter has an average of 85.79? Or put differently, why should average students be academically punished for taking class from Professor A, an eminently qualified professor?

While same subject classes should have, as a matter of fairness, the same average grades, so too should all classes regardless of the subject. Grades should not force law students to make decisions between classes that will boost their GPA and classes that are pertinent to their legal interests. Yet, grading disparities between different courses will encourage students to take classes with higher median grades. While these classes are no doubt worthwhile and interesting to some students, for many others these classes offer nothing more than an improved GPA.

Certainly, I've phrased my argument as hyperbole. Not all students will take only the classes with the highest averages. Some students will take classes with low averages because they don't care about grades. Other students will take classes regardless of the average because they consistently perform above the pack. And averages don't tell the whole story. A class with 60 students could have a lower average than a 12 student class, yet give more A's, thus increasing the incentive for some high performing students to take the class with the lower average.

But statistical accuracy aside, higher averages will motivate many students to take classes in which they have little interest. Classroom discourse and student output are improved when students are genuinely interested in a class. Thus, it behooves our administration to normalize averages for all classes.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Ranking is also a highly influential factor affecting the selection of judicial clerkships, the holy grail of post-law school jobs.

<sup>2</sup> Of course, we could just do away with the grade book, but that would only place a band-aid on the problem.

THE DOCKET

GEORGIA STATE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF LAW
 140 DECATUR ST., ATLANTA, GEORGIA 30303
 404.651.0734 TELEPHONE

EXECUTIVE EDITORIAL BOARD

Editor-in-Chief
 Suzanne Lee-Jackson

Managing Editor
 Sherrie Brady

Chief Layout Editor
 Elizabeth Marum

Features/Organizations Editor
 Eric Rogers

SBA Editor
 Nichole DeVries

WRITERS

Staff Writers
 Amanda Clark
 Michelle Cooper
 John Gunn

Contributing Writers
 This Issue
 Nicola Pasquerelli

Advisor
 Jerri Nims Rooker, J.D.

The Docket is published by the Student Bar Association of Georgia State University College of Law. All students are encouraged to submit articles for publication. Please submit articles by email to slee88@student.gsu.edu.

It is The Docket policy that all submissions are subject to editing and space limitations. We make every effort to publish stories submitted by the deadline, with priority to the earliest submissions. The views and opinions contained herein do not necessarily reflect those of the faculty and student body of the College of Law, the SBA Board or the editorial staff of the Docket. Direct questions and comments to: slee88@student.gsu.edu.

Call for Submissions!

Do you have an issue that you would like to discuss, debate or vent about?

Or would you like to respond to something you've read today?

Email your editorial to: slee88@student.gsu.edu. Subject line: Editorial

WORD FIND

by Suzanne Lee-Jackson

Words You Never Used Before Law School

T R E A S O N A B L E E S U P A T D E E I S S T G O T S J
 S A I L A R E T N I S M G U R H T X L T R I X P N E A T R
 O E R N E A I N I S P R U E E O P N I L T S T T R L N L I
 I S E N R U L P O D L A M D R A L I T T P L O A I A L A E
 A P A R E M D R I O N A O T R I S U I A M A E T O I A I H
 P E C S N U P R S T C C S T E L O N G A E F H T A M I R E
 L M M L M E C A T N K S E H C A L C A S E F A T F T C T F
 O E C P L M O C I E C O E U S S I E T A M I T L U R I K K
 S T T L T T U E T T E C T N P A I O I A T R T E R U D C R
 C V O A D V O C A T E E S U P E P U O T A M P S U O U O N
 E N B A N C E T H I C S S S S P T I N L I E S K C C J M X
 O E C M E B R E R R U M E D E U O S T T A D E A M T E P N
 O N F A P R E C E D E N T L E S U A C E T A M I X O R P E
 P C R U L E A G A I N S T P E R P E T U I T I E S O P A U
 T S U A S P O N T E P U N T E N A N C Y I N C O M M O N E
 R N E T E P A E S A E N I P R C E I T I R M H P P S S C U

These words are "lost" in the puzzle. Can you find them?
 (Hint: They may be diagonal, backward, forward, right side up and upside down!)

- Res Ipsa Loquiter
- Mock Trial
- Moot Court
- Estoppel
- Ex Parte
- Torts
- Tenancy in Common
- Ultimate Issue
- Demurrer
- In Camera
- Nolle Prose
- Advocate
- Inter alia
- Affirmed
- Sua Sponte
- En Banc
- The Docket
- Proximate Cause
- Precedent
- Prejudicial
- Reasonable
- Ethics
- Rule Against Perpetuities
- Litigation
- Laches

ANSWERS:
 Sorry...You're on your own :-)
 Think of this as the "socratic" word find...

Do you...?
 Have a room for rent?
 Need to get rid of some old books?
 Know really good lawyer jokes?

If you would like to add to the For Fun or Classifieds section, send an email to: slee88@student.gsu.edu
 Subject line: For Fun or Classified

Sign up for April Westlaw Certification Classes Now!

Wednesday, April 4th
PREPARE TO PRACTICE-USING WESTLAW EFFICIENTLY IN THE REAL WORLD
 Noon, 4pm and 5pm
 6th floor Training Lab

Wednesday, April 11th
PREPARE TO PRACTICE-JUDICIAL AND GOVERNMENT CLERKSHIPS
 Noon, 4pm and 5pm
 6th floor Training Lab

Wednesday, April 18th
LAST CHANCE PREPARE TO PRACTICE-USING WESTLAW EFFICIENTLY IN THE REAL WORLD
 Noon and 5pm
 Room TBA
Pizza and Soda will be served.

To register, email Sue Moore at: sue.moore@thomson.com or sign up on lawschool.westlaw.com and click on "Check out the Westlaw Training Calendar" link.

Coming in the Fall: The Docket Online!

Next Issue: Outrageous Injustice: Genarlow Wilson's Effect on Aggravated Child Molestation Laws

Does your bar review course connect with your digital lifestyle?

adaptibar
 The revolutionary new way to prepare for the Multistate Bar Exam.

www.AdaptiBar.com
 Enroll online and receive a $50 discount or call us toll-free at: 1.877.466.1250