Georgia State University College of Law 2023 Clinical Faculty Recruitment Externship Program

Georgia State University's College of Law seeks highly qualified applicants for a full-time clinical faculty position in the Externship Program at the rank of Clinical Assistant Professor.

Appointment could begin as early as Spring 2023. The position is a non-tenure track twelve-month clinical faculty appointment, with faculty status, a renewable contract, and job security commensurate with tenured faculty. Clinical faculty have voting rights and serve on faculty committees at the College of Law. Clinical faculty also teach non-clinic courses consistent with their expertise and interests.

The Externship Program is an integral part of GSU Law's experiential learning curriculum. The Externship Program provides GSU Law full-time and part-time students opportunities to work with non-profits, government agencies, corporate in-house departments, law firms and judges while earning academic credit.

Responsibilities of the position include, but are not limited to:

- Teach externship seminar, focusing on the intersection of effective lawyering skills with professional identity formation, in all semesters including summer.
- Supervise new and returning externs, facilitating a meaningful legal learning experience that adheres to program requirements.
- Engage with extern students in one-on-one meetings and classroom environment to foster their learning and development, specifically as it relates to the formation of their professional identity.
- Cultivate and oversee externship placements.
- Provide support to site supervisors to ensure students receive a quality legal educational experience.
- Conduct externship site visits as needed.
- Advise and guide students on selecting externship placements.
- Develop new externship placements in locations outside of Metro-Atlanta, including Washington D.C. and rural counties in Georgia.
- Develop new externship placements with a special focus on increasing opportunities for part-time students.
- Participate in meetings of and supervisor training CLE programs given by the Georgia Association of Legal Externships.

Qualifications for the position include:

- A J.D. degree from an ABA-accredited law school and a strong academic record;
- At least four (4) years relevant post-J.D. legal experience;
- A proven record of (or clear demonstrated potential for) successful teaching and professional engagement;
- Strong oral and written communication skills; and
- Prior legal practice experience.

Applicants should submit a statement of interest, full curriculum vitae, and list of professional references at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/23321>. Please note that applicants may be required to submit further documentation prior to a campus interview, including three written letters of recommendation. Applications will be reviewed until the position is filled.
