

LL.M. WITH A CONCENTRATION IN INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY LAW

FOR U.S.-TRAINED LAWYERS

The master of laws with a concentration in intellectual property law is designed to give practicing U.S. attorneys a competitive edge. Music streaming services, video-on-demand platforms and social media have created complex questions about property rights in products of the mind. Our students dig deep into how advances in digital and genetic technologies, social media and the internet are shaping legal protections of authors, inventors and businesses.

This interdisciplinary program gives students the knowledge to answer tomorrow's legal questions, today. Courses are taught by faculty with expertise in all areas of intellectual property law, including patents, copyrights and trademarks, and who have practiced in a variety of areas including cyberlaw, pharmaceutical law, arts & entertainment law and sports law.
