Georgia State University | College of Law

Center for Access to Justice

Student Project Proposal

Individual students and student groups wishing to design their pro bono projects should fill out this form as completely as possible and submit it via email to probono@gsu.edu. Upon receipt of this proposal, the assistant director will contact students to schedule a meeting to review the proposal.

Applicant Information

(If applying as a group, designate a single student to be the primary contact for the group and list the names of all other students planning to participate.)

Applicant Name:

Student Participants:

Project Host

Name of Organization:

Address:

Phone:

Website:

Type of Organization:

       Law firm   Nonprofit organization   Government   Other

Organizational mission:

Has the student contacted the organization to discuss the project?   Yes   No

Project Supervisor

Supervising Attorney:

Phone:

Email:

Has the project supervisor previously supervised law students?   Yes   No

If yes, describe prior experience:

Project Information

Describe the project and how it conforms to the pro bono program's goals. List specific tasks, research objectives, client work, and other activities student volunteers will perform. Pro bono guidelines require that projects 1) make use of legal knowledge or apply legal skills, 2) not provide financial compensation or academic credit, and 3) serve clients of limited means.

Address where project will be performed:

Can other students participate?   Yes   No

Maximum number of student participants:

Student Training

Describe any training that will be available for participating students. Note whether training is required and how many hours of training are expected.

Project Timeframe

If a one-time event, provide date and number of hours:

If recurring, provide hours per week and proposed start/end dates:

If a long-term project, provide due date:

Submit completed applications to probono@gsu.edu.